

To the FCC:

I am disgusted as to how the American Government is no longer representative of the American people but of American corporate interests. Anti-trust laws be damned as long as our rich, corporate benefactors get what they want. The FCC is a contributing partner in this selling out of America.

I oppose repealing the rules that prohibit a media company from owning both a newspaper and a TV station in the same geographic area. This will do nothing to improve the quality and content of the information to which the public has access. Rather, this information will be furthered tailored and filtered to assure it promotes corporate interests rather than the more valuable collective interests of the American people and our expectation of a free press.
